Trading Environment

The year was marked by a sharp contraction in activity and continued margin pressure. Consolidated Group sales fell 59% from KES 508.0 million in 2025 to KES 208.3 million in 2026, and the Group swung from a profit after tax of KES 32.2 million to a loss after tax of KES 164.7 million. In view of the loss and the Group's funding and reinvestment requirements, the Directors do not recommend a dividend for the year ended 31st March 2026.

Business Overview

Aviation Division (AMS & ADC). Combined aviation revenue was KES 104.8 million (2025: KES 133.4 million), about half of Group revenue. AMS revenue rose 18% to KES 69.9 million on improved utilisation of the division's assets, and it remained the Group's most profitable segment (profit before tax KES 27.8 million; 2025: KES 22.8 million). ADC revenue fell to KES 34.9 million (2025: KES 74.3 million), though additional business was booked after the close of the year; its administrative costs rose to KES 44.7 million (2025: KES 15.5 million) on the on-boarding of additional capacity to support projected business, resulting in a loss after tax of KES 26.8 million.

Automobile Division (DAL). Delta Automobile revenue fell about 68% to KES 103.5 million (2025: KES 325.8 million), roughly half of Group revenue. It recorded the largest divisional loss after tax, KES 162.6 million (2025: loss KES 126.1 million), and was the principal driver of the Group result.

Trading Division (NBV). The trading business (the Company) recorded no revenue in 2026 (2025: KES 48.9 million) following the restructuring of the business, and a Company loss after tax of KES 3.1 million (2025: loss KES 4.4 million).

Outlook

The Group anticipates that the 2026/27 financial year will remain challenging, given continued high financing costs. Nevertheless, management will focus on restoring group revenues especially in trading and aviation. Delta Automobiles is also looking to establish strategic relationships to turn around the fortunes of this business.

The Board and Management remain committed to safeguarding the Group’s financial stability and positioning the business to weather the ongoing economic pressures.
