COMMENTARY

The Group recorded a 12% growth in revenue compared to the same period last year, underscoring the strength of our brands and the continued trust from our consumers. This performance was achieved despite a challenging business environment, with consumers facing reduced purchasing power and the cost of key raw materials remaining elevated due to global supply constraints and logistical pressures.

Throughout the period, the Group maintained a strong focus on operational efficiency and on continuing to deliver high quality, safe, and reliable products to the market. We also deepened our engagement with customers, farmers, and trade partners, helping to strengthen productivity and collaboration across the value chain.

Macroeconomic conditions were generally supportive. Foreign exchange rates remained relatively stable while interest rates showed signs of easing, providing a more conducive environment for business.

In line with our Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) commitments, the Group completed the installation of a biomass plant at the Nairobi Feeds site. This investment will help reduce energy costs while significantly lowering our environmental footprint, a key step forward in our sustainability journey.

Outlook Statement

As we progress into the second half of the financial year, the Group remains focused on navigating carefully in an uncertain global geopolitical environment. Efforts will continue towards improving supply chain performance and developing further efficiencies in our production processes. Unfavourable weather conditions in the next six months will pose a threat to key raw material supplies and consequently negatively affect business performance.

Although the Group delivered improved financial performance during the half-year, the Directors do not recommend the declaration of a dividend. This position reflects the need to conserve cash and rebuild the Group's working capital which had been eroded by losses incurred in prior years. The Board remains focused on strengthening the Company's balance sheet, sustaining the current recovery trajectory and positioning the business for sustainable, long term value creation for stakeholders.
